Owner's Instructions

Important Warranty Information Regarding Television Format Viewing

Standard screen format televisions (4:3, the aspect ratio of the screen width to height) are primarily designed to view standard format full-motion video. The images displayed on them should primarily be in the standard 4:3 ratio format and constantly moving. Displaying stationary graphics and images on screen, such as the dark top and bottom letterbox bars (wide screen pictures), should be limited to no more than 15% of the total television viewing per week.

Wide screen format televisions (16:9, the aspect ratio of the screen width to height) are primarily designed to view wide screen format full-motion video. The images displayed on them should primarily be in the wide screen 16:9 ratio format, or expanded to fill the screen if your model offers this feature, and constantly moving. Displaying stationary graphics and images on screen, such as the dark side-bars on non-expanded standard format television video and programming, should be limited to no more than 15% of the total television viewing per week.

Additionally, viewing other stationary images and text such as stock market reports, video game displays, station logos, web sites or computer graphics and patterns, should be limited as described above for all televisions. Displaying any stationary images that exceed the above guidelines can cause uneven aging of picture tubes (CRTs) that leave subtle, but permanent burned-in ghost images in the television picture. To avoid this, vary the programming and images, and primarily display full screen moving images, not stationary patterns or dark bars. On television models that offer picture sizing features, use these controls to view the different formats as a full screen picture.

Be careful in the selection and duration of television formats used for viewing. Uneven CRT aging as a result of format selection and use, as well as other burned-in images, is not covered by your Samsung limited warranty.

Connecting VHF and UHF Antennas

If your antenna has a set of leads that look like this, see "Antennas with 300-ohm Flat Twin Leads," below.

If your antenna has one lead that looks like this, see "Antennas with 75-ohm Round Leads," on next page.

If you have two antennas, see "Separate VHF and UHF Antennas," on next page.

Antennas with 300-ohm Flat Twin Leads

If you are using an off-air antenna (such as a roof antenna or "rabbit ears") that has 300-ohm twin flat leads, follow the directions below.

1
Place the wires from the twin leads under the screws on the 300-75 ohm adapter (not supplied). Use a screwdriver to tighten the screws.
2
Plug the adapter into the "ANT IN" terminal on the rear panel.
Antennas with 75-ohm Round Leads

Plug the antenna lead into the "ANT IN" terminal on the rear panel.

ANT IN
Separate VHF and UHF Antennas

If you have two separate antennas for your TV (one VHF and one UHF), you must combine the two antenna signals before connecting the antennas to the TV. This procedure requires a an optional combiner-adapter (available at most electronics shops).

1
Connect both antenna leads to the combiner.

1
Find and disconnect the cable that is connected to the ANTENNA IN terminal on your cable box.
◀ This terminal might be labeled "ANT IN", "VHF IN", or simply "IN".

2
Connect this cable to a two-way splitter. Connect a coaxial cable between an OUTPUT terminal on the splitter and the IN terminal on the cable box.

Viewing Closed Caption Information

Your TV decodes and displays the closed captions information that is broadcast along with some television shows. These captions are usually subtitles for the hearing impaired or translations into other languages. All VCRs record the closed caption signal from television programs, so pre-recorded video tapes can also deliver closed-caption information. Check for the closed caption symbol (CC) on the tape's package or your TV program-schedule.

Also, all of the age-based ratings will be locked within the particular group (i.e., "group 1" or "group 2"). Suppose that the TV-G rating and all of its contents (V, S, L, and D) are locked. In that case, more restrictive ratings (TV-PG, TV-14, and TV-MA) and all of their contents (V, S, L, and D) are automatically locked as well.

- MPAA ratings : The particular rating that you have selected will be locked. In addition, more restrictive ratings will be locked as well.

- Neither TV (FCC) ratings nor MPAA ratings apply to news programs.

Customizing Your Remote Control

Your TV comes equipped with a universal remote control. In addition to controlling the TV, the universal remote control can also operate a VCR, Cable box, DVD, and some Samsung Set-top boxes (even if your VCR, Cable box and DVD are made by manufacturers other than Samsung).

Setting Up Your Remote Control to Operate Your VCR (Cable box or DVD player)

1
Turn off your VCR (Cable box or DVD player).

2
Press the MODE button to switch the remote control to the VCR (CABLE or DVD) mode.

◄ The remote control has five modes: TV, STB, VCR, CABLE and DVD.

3
On your Samsung remote control, press the SET button.

4
Enter 3 digits of the VCR (Cable box or DVD player) code listed on next page for your brand of VCR (Cable box or DVD player).

◄ Make sure you enter 3 digits of the code, even if the first digit is a "0". (If more than one code listed, try the first one.)

5
Press the POWER button on the remote control. Your VCR (Cable box or DVD player) should turn on. If your VCR (Cable box or DVD player) turns on, your remote control is now set correctly.

◄ If your VCR (Cable box or DVD player) does not turn on, repeat steps 2, 3, and 4, but try one of the other codes listed for the brand of your particular VCR (Cable box or DVD player).

6
Once your remote control is set up, press the MODE button any time you want to use the remote to operate your VCR (Cable box or DVD player).

• When your remote is in the TV mode, the VCR (or DVD player) control buttons (REW, STOP, PLAY/PAUSE and FF) will still operate your VCR (or DVD player).

• When your remote control is in the STB, VCR, CABLE or DVD mode, the volume buttons still control your TV's volume.

The visual quality is of an SD grade visual quality.
Although the TV caption shows HD,the visual quality is not satisfactory.	The HD caption that appears when switching channels or when pressing the Information button on the remote control means the selected channel is simply a digital channel.
